A FRIEND of former Haverhill man David Tebbutt, who was killed in Kenya earlier this week, has spoken of his shock and sadness at the tragedy.

Mr Tebbutt, 58, who grew up in the town, was killed in the early hours of Sunday during a luxury holiday at an exclusive resort in Kenya. His wife Judith, a social worker, was kidnapped by their attackers and is still missing.

Jim Morgan, 51, of Wrattling Road, Haverhill, was at the gym on Monday morning when he saw a picture of his friend flash across the television screen.

He said: "It really stopped me in my tracks; I was very, very shocked. He was a neighbour of my parents and his dad, Stan, lived next door for 46 years, until he died about four years ago.

"I knew him and his brothers, Michael and Paul, as we were all growing up together. I think he moved from Haverhill in the 70s, but he still came back to see his dad and we would chat across the garden fence and often went out for a pint together.

"He was a really nice man and he and Jude had been together for a long time. He was really ill with a collapsed lung about 40 years ago and close to death. I think that was something that always stayed with him and he felt very lucky to be alive. To go away on holiday and have something like this happen is just unbelievable.

"I really feel for Paul and Michael and for all the family, and pray for Jude's safe return. He still had a lot of friends in the town and a lot of people have posted on Facebook about it. You see these things on television, but never think it will be someone that you know. It is such a terrible thing to happen and so very sad."

St Mary's church in Haverhill will be open from 9am to 2pm on Monday for those who want to remember Mr Tebbutt.

Andrew Payne, a pioneer minister at the church, said: "The family have not requested anything specific, although we would be happy to accommodate anything they wanted to do in the future.

"We know a lot of people in the town knew him and everyone has been shocked and saddened by this. We would encourage anyone who would like to light a candle for him or just come in here for some space to come to the church.

"I will be there with others who will speak to people and make them a cup of tea if that is what they want, or they can just come in to the church without speaking to anyone if they prefer."

Officials have said the Tebbutts, who lived in Bishop's Stortford, Hertfordshire, were attacked on the first night of their stay at the Kiwayu Safari Village, with reports suggesting that bandits broke into their accommodation.

Local police said gunmen entered the couple's room – which had only cloths for doors – shortly after midnight on Sunday and fired a single shot.

Mrs Tebbutt, 56, was reportedly taken from the resort by six men in what police described as a "bandit attack".

There are suspicions that the gang, thought to be from Somalia, used a speedboat to get away from the isolated island resort, which has played host to artist Tracey Emin and reportedly Sir Mick Jagger.

The couple had come from visiting the Masai Mara reserve and were the resort's only guests.

The Tebbutts' son Oliver is reported to be "devastated" and tributes have poured in for his father, who worked for publisher Faber & Faber.

Prime Minister David Cameron said yesterday that the Government was doing "everything we possibly can" to resolve the kidnapping.

He added that he had chaired a meeting of the Government's Cobra emergency committee about the case, and that Foreign Secretary William Hague had met relatives of the Tebbutts yesterday.

The Foreign and Commonwealth Office (FCO) said a team has been deployed to the area from the High Commission in Nairobi and called for those involved in the kidnapping to "show compassion".

Guest beers lined up

LOCAL breweries will be in the spotlight at a village pub's first beer and cider festival over the weekend.

The Cock Inn, in Little Thurlow, will have almost 20 guest ales available for those curious to sample some of the county's most popular tipples, including a range from the Nethergate Brewery, located near the village of Clare.

The producer's famed Azzaskunk ale will be topping the bill alongside Three Point Nine and Augustinian. Greene King has a quartet of premium ales lined up, with Abbot Ale, St Edmunds, IPA and Old Speckled Hen all on tap over the weekend of September 23 to 25.

Many beers from further afield will also be on offer, as well as a range of Aspall's ciders, and festivities are planned for the three-day event, rounding off with a Monday mop-up on 26 September where guests can pay £20 for a curry and as much of the leftover ale as they can manage.

For more information, visit the pub's website www.thecockthurlow.co.uk.

Councils move in to cut back costs

TWO councils are to share offices – following a revamp costing more than £300,000 – which will halve their running costs for two buildings.

A report to the Haverhill Area Working Party last Thursday gave an update on plans to renovate St Edmundsbury Borough Council's offices at Lower Downs Slade, Haverhill, so that Suffolk County Council can move there from its existing offices in Camps Road, which will be sold.

Voluntary groups including Haverhill Citizens Advice Bureau will continue to operate from the Lower Downs Slade building, but move to smaller offices.

Major repairs to the building needed to the building, particularly to the heating system and glazing, will be undertaken now, with future maintenance, repairs and running costs being shared on a 50/50 basis by the two councils.

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Suffolk County Council may also relocate some of its staff from Sudbury to the building. St Edmundsbury Borough Council's annual running costs would be reduced from £80,000 to £40,000.

The scheme also includes updating IT systems. The work is out to tender and planned to start at the beginning of October and be completed by the end of February next year.

When the scheme was first approved last February an estimated cost of £305,000 for the repairs and refurbishment was given, to be shared between the two councils. Since then, the exact work needed has been assessed and the cost was now expected to be significantly higher. However, much of the increased capital costs would lead to savings in running costs in the future.

A report to the committee said: "To deliver a more sustainable and fit for purpose shared building, will require full replacement of the inefficient air convecter heating system by a new conventional heating and radiator system, the upgrade of much of the original 1960s wiring and electrical installations, and opening up existing first-floor cellular offices, the latter to provide a more open-plan layout to allow more effective hot-desking and touch-down working, which will in turn enable more flexible working throughout the building. This approach will require the furniture to be replaced for the two councils, to increase workstation capacity."

St Edmundsbury aims to improve customer service as the Lower Downs Slade building will become a single hub for public services in Haverhill, providing, with the voluntary organisations, a "single front door" solution. It will also improve accommodation for staff working from Haverhill, to give more parity with staff working from West Suffolk House in Bury St

Thieves escape with copper and tools haul

THOUSANDS of pounds worth of copper wire and tools have been stolen from contractors installing a water pipeline in Suffolk.

Two thefts within a week from locked storage areas at a building site in Simms Lane, Kedington, netted goods worth a total of around £6,000.

The first theft happened between Saturday, September 3 and Monday, September 5, when padlocks were broken to gain entry. Thieves took copper wire worth £2,500, as well as hand grinders and Mekita drills, belonging to Enviro Fabrications.

Any information about this theft should be given to PC Sarah Reavill on (01284) 774100.

Two containers were broken into on the second occasion, between 8.30pm on Thursday, September 8 and 6.15am on Friday. A variety of items worth a total of £2,775 were taken, including copper wiring, a compressor, an electric head torch and power drills.

Any information about the thefts or about anyone offering tools for sale should be passed to PC Mark Ellis on (01294) 774100.

Late half-marathon call

RUNNERS and walkers till have time to register to take part in West Suffolk's inaugural half-marathon. The event, dubbed Jog On To Kidney Cancer, is the brainchild of charity worker Leela Huckstep, who has designed the race on behalf of the James Whale Fund for Kidney Cancer.

The 13-mile run on October 1 will start and finish at the White Horse pub in Withersfield.

Leela said: "I come from the area and saw there wasn't really a half-marathon around here, so saw an opportunity. The idea is for it to be a fun run open to anyone, even those who want to walk it."

"We want to raise awareness of kidney cancer, which doesn't get enough attention, even though there are such a high number of incidents."

Leela works for the James Whale Fund, which is based in Cambridge and is the UK's leading specialist kidney cancer charity. The registration fee for the event is £15 and participants must pledge to raise at least £50. To register, call 0844 4745050 or e-mail jac@jameswhalefund.org.

Broadband breakthrough

SUPER-FAST broadband should be available in villages across Suffolk next year after a scheme to won Government approval.

It was announced yesterday that the Government had given the go-ahead to the Suffolk Local Broadband Plan, with £11.68m awarded, and super-fast broadband will begin being rolled out across rural Suffolk next year.

West Suffolk MP Matthew Hancock said: "It is brilliant that the Government has given the green light to Suffolk's local broadband plan. Suffolk has now been awarded £11.68 million from the Government to implement its local broadband plan, which will bring super-fast broadband to rural Suffolk."

"After BT's announcement that Mildenhall will have access to super-fast broadband next year, and the existing commitment to bring super-fast broadband to Haverhill this summer and Newmarket in the spring, this is yet more good news."

"This will finally make super-fast broadband a reality for rural parts of Suffolk, where businesses and families have long been frustrated at the slowness of their connection."

"I have been fighting with other Suffolk MPs and the county council for better broadband access, so I am thrilled at the news."

Leg hurt as horse falls

A YOUNG man's leg was injured when a horse fell on him yesterday. Paramedics were called to a farm in West Wratting shortly before 9am.

Ambulance service spokesman Gary Sanderson said: "A man who we believe to be in his 20s has been conveyed to Addenbrooke's Hospital with lower leg injuries."

Walker finds a tortoise

A WALKER who found a tortoise in a cornfield is hoping to reunite it with its owner. The creature was found in woods close to Haverhill bypass on Saturday.

It was taken to Linton Zoo, but no microchip was found. Anyone who thinks it could be their missing pet is asked to contact the Weekly News on (01440) 703891.

Coffee and cake for birthday

COFFEE drinkers got a slice of cake to help celebrate the seventh birthday of a weekly group.

The Monday Morning Coffee Group meets at the Leiston Community Centre in Haverhill every Monday, except bank holidays, from 9.30 am to 11.30am. The group held a party on Monday to celebrate its seventh birthday.

The group started at the nearby Salvation Army resource centre, and later moved to its current address when the centre closed.

Joan Key, one of the organisers, said: "We meet for a chat and pass on any information we have about events in the town, the local SNT is often represented, and members of the police service, Haverbury housing and local councillors often attend, to give advice and listen to concerns about the community.

Occasionally, we have someone come to chat to us, eg the dog warden and members of local charities.

"Thanks to financial support at different times over the past seven years, from Haverbury Housing, St Edmundsbury and most recently Haverhill Town Council, we are currently able to finance the group ourselves.

"Most people who call in, enjoy themselves so much that they come every week, but we welcome everyone, for as long and as often as they choose."

Town centre car ban hit by delay

Consultation needed on latest scheme

CONTROVERSIAL new plans for a daytime ban on all cars entering Haverhill town centre look set to further delay a decision on the issue – which has been under discussion for more than 30 years.

Plans to restrict access into Haverhill High Street between 10am and 4pm had already produced so many unresolved objections that a public inquiry would be needed.

Originally, traffic orders had been drawn up banning cars only from the top of the High Street, beyond the junction with Quakers Lane. It was planned to create a new exit road for traffic travelling into the High Street via Quakers Lane.

However, a report to last Thursday's St Edmundsbury Borough Council Haverhill Area Working Party said that Quakers Lane was no longer considered suitable for an access road because of the potential conflict of pedestrians and vehicles using the road, as well as a number of structural difficulties.

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

The county council plans to consult the public on a new scheme which would make the bottom half of Swan Lane and the section of Camps Road which joins the High Street both two-way, to restrict traffic coming into the town centre and reduce abuse of the current access restrictions.

Access to the High Street would be prohibited for all vehicles – including blue badge-holders – on Monday to Thursday from 10am to 4pm and Friday and Saturday from 6am to 6pm. One possible alternative would be the introduction of permits and/or a controlled access for properties and businesses affected.

The new plan also involves making Crowland Road one-way, but in a north-south direction, the opposite of what had previously been proposed.

Cllr Karen Richardson, chairman of the area working party, said: "No decision has been made. What came to us was more than one option and we are asking the county council for more information so that we can make a decision next month. It will only hold up the scheme for one month."

"At the end of the day the will of the people is to shut the whole thing off to traffic. What has come back to us each time has not made this possible – there has always been a problem. The borough council has put £750,000 in its budget to upgrade the section between Swan Lane and Quakers Lane, and that work will go ahead, but additional funding is needed to do the rest of the High Street."

The new plan is supported by Haverhill Town Council, the police and county councillors, but not the Chamber of Commerce. If more objections are raised to the revised scheme which cannot be overcome, a public inquiry is likely to be held, but not before next year.

The schedule currently expects the process from consultation to public inquiry to take until the end of March next year, with site works then running until next December.

Residents to have a say on council cuts

SUFFOLK residents are to be asked how their council tax should be spent and where cuts could be made.

Suffolk County Council is at the beginning of its budget-setting process and plans to ask everyone who lives and works in the county to help decide how best to spend the £1 billion budget it is responsible for.

Adult social care, child protection, fire and rescue and roads maintenance are among the many key public services provided by Suffolk County Council, all of which require public funding to deliver.

Members of the public, local businesses, the voluntary sector and district and borough councils in Suffolk are being asked what services they value most – in order to help Suffolk County Council decide where to make necessary savings.

Because of a 28 per cent reduction in the amount of money it receives from the Government, increased inflation and demand for services, Suffolk County Council has to save £50 million in the next two years. This is on top of £43 million saved by the council in the current financial year.

Suffolk County Council's leader, Cllr Mark Bee, said: "The financial challenges we are facing in Suffolk are significant, but I'm determined that we must find a way to meet them while protecting the services we all value."

"But before we make any decisions about how we spend public money and where we make savings next year, I want to hear from our partners and the people of Suffolk."

"I can't pretend that difficult decisions won't have to be made. But I want to ensure that the choices we make reflect not just my views or those of other councillors, but the values of the people we are here to serve."

The consultation will be in two phases. The first phase up to October 23 will focus on broader issues and priorities and the second from November 1 to December 12 will involve specific savings. The final budget will be agreed by full council on February 9 next year.

Town music event has global draw

Soloists from around world heading to town

MUSICIANS from around the globe will arrive in Haverhill later this month for a prestigious competition.

The 22nd Haverhill Sinfonia Soloist Competition takes place on Saturday, September 24 at Haverhill Arts Centre in the High Street.

What began as a modest competition is now a prestigious annual international event, which this year has attracted 178 entrants of 38 nationalities.

A final 25 musicians have been selected to compete and will each perform a 20-minute programme of their own choice in a day of musical delights of the highest calibre.

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Categories featured are baritone, cello, clarinet, mandolin, oboe, piano, saxophone, trombone, trumpet, viola and violin.

There are 35 prizes to the value of £8,400, plus 23 solo engagements throughout the UK.

The adjudicating panel will be Kevin Hill (music director, Haverhill Sinfonia), Stephen Bryant (leader, BBC Symphony Orchestra), Timothy Lines (professor of clarinet, Royal College of Music and Royal Academy of Music) and Colin Stone (professor of Piano, Royal Academy of Music and Royal Northern College of Music).

The competition is being held between 9.30am and 8.00pm and provides an opportunity for the audience to have some fun spotting the stars of tomorrow and comparing their choice with that of the panel.

All-day tickets, available at the door, cost £4 (adult), £2 (OAP/student) and free for those aged 16 and under. Ticket-holders come and go as they please throughout the day.

The box office telephone number is (01440) 714140. Details of the competitors and the music they will perform are available on the website www.haverhillsinfonia.co.uk.

Crowds swoop in for fun of the fayre

Action-packed: crowds enjoyed fun and displays at the Thurlow Fayre. CP

CROWDS enjoyed plenty of fun before the rain came at an annual village event.

The Thurlow Fayre was opened by West Suffolk MP Matthew Hancock at the village recreation ground. It included falconry displays and other countryside pursuits.

Urban All Stars Majorettes gave a display, as well as Hadstock Silver Band and members of Haverhill Centrestage singing songs from well-known musicals, including Copacabana, for which they are currently rehearsing.

Also there were Linton Radio Race Car Club, Doc Spinoff Circus Skills, a new reptile experience, face-painting, a giant slide, bouncy castle, toddler rides and a fun dog show.

The event is expected to raise between £4,000 and £4,500 for village groups and other charities.

Professor turns his attention to Dali

AN insight into the work of surrealist painter Salvador Dali will be given at a talk in Haverhill.

Bringing an array of symbolic objects – a crutch, a cross and a piece of driftwood – Prof Anthony Slinn will give a full exposé of Dali at Haverhill Arts Centre on Wednesday, September 28 at 7.30pm.

Following his well-received talk on Vincent Van Gogh, Haverhill Art Group has invited Prof Slinn back to the Arts Centre to give an insight into the life, work and inspiration of a great artist.

Prof Slinn, who studied at Liverpool College of Art and the Slade School of Fine Art, will attempt to solve the enigma that was Salvador Dali and interpret such paintings as The Persistence of Memory and The Vision of St John of The Cross.

Following a summer spent at Dali's home in Port Lligat, a small fishing village on the Costa Brava in Spain, he discovered how much of the landscape of Dali's home can be seen in his paintings and the significant influence of his wife and muse, Gala.

Nick Keeble of the Arts Centre said: "We are always looking for new and interesting events to hold at the Arts Centre and art history lectures organised by Haverhill Art Group seemed to fit the bill perfectly. It's great to be able to complement our strong live programme with something from the visual arts and we hope it will become a permanent fixture."

Tickets are £4, £2 for art group members and £1 for students. To book, call Haverhill Arts Centre box office on (01440) 714140.

Tea and coffee will also be available in the school hall.

Panels stolen

WOODEN fence panels were damaged and removed from the front garden of a house in Haverhill Road, Kedington between 7.30pm on Monday, September 5 and 6.30am the next day.

Cuts leave addicts' charity facing chop

Joy at last in kerb campaign

It's here: councillors Gordon Cox and Anne Gower celebrate the arrival of the new dropped kerb after a lengthy campaign Picture: Richard Patterson 767594.

TWO councillors are celebrating finally seeing a dropped kerb installed after a five-year campaign.

St Edmundsbury Borough councillors Gordon Cox and Anne Gower visited the area between Haverhill's Railway Walk and the East Town Park, and close to a children's play area, where the dropped kerb has been provided.

Cllr Cox said: "It has taken me five years to get it done and finally with the help of Anne Gower we have achieved it."

"I have already seen it being well used by cyclists and also mothers with pushchairs. It will also be helpful for people in wheelchairs as it is quite a busy area used by a lot of people."

A DRUG and alcohol service which has helped save lives and reform addicts is under threat of closure because of funding cuts.

Residents of Haverhill and Bury St Edmunds are being asked to pledge their support for NORCAS after it was announced that funding for its hostel in-reach service will run out in March 2012.

NORCAS is a leading local charity supporting those affected by addictive behaviours – and unless a new source of income is found, it may have to close.

The charity is currently self-funding the service after its original grant came to an end in April 2011. NORCAS provides a specialist drug and alcohol in-reach service to participating supported housing schemes in the Haverhill and Bury St Edmunds areas.

The scheme targets residents who are at risk of losing their accommodation due to drug and alcohol problems. Treatments include 'psychosocial interventions', social engagement support and external liaison with clinical treatment providers. Key workers also accompany clients to external appointments such as with GPs or housing providers.

Paul Evans, team leader for the NORCAS hostel in-reach service, said: "The hostel in-reach service has literally saved lives and it is vital that a new source of funding is found. It helps clients turn their lives around, benefiting themselves and their health and in turn the police, NHS and the local community."

"Without the intervention of a service such as the one NORCAS offers, some

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

clients can fall into a 'revolving door' cycle where they repeatedly enter into destructive patterns of addictive behaviour."

Louise Bland, NHS alcohol and liver disease nurse specialist, says "The loss of a service such as this will leave clients in a vulnerable position that may impact other agencies such as the emergency services and exert extra pressure on an already overstretched accident & emergency department, also resulting in an increased number of admissions to hospital."

Assistant Chief Constable of Suffolk Police Paul Marshall said: "We believe that this service is an invaluable one, providing important residential support for alcohol and drug abusers."

"The treatment and support available on site can help people to help themselves and ultimately get their lives back on course."

"This not only benefits the people using the hostel but it also lifts the burden on the police force, giving officers a trusted, proven and effective place to direct people too when they are in need of this sort of help."

"In turn this means our resources are not repeatedly being used to deal with the same people."

For more information about the Hostel In-Reach campaign, contact NORCAS head of fundraising, Matt Wilson on (01603) 227053 or email m.wilson@norcass.org.uk.

Sanctuary marks milestone

AN animal sanctuary which celebrates 34 years of operation this week is holding an open weekend.

Carol Harris has been running the Jaybeth Sanctuary at Barnardiston, near Haverhill, for more than three decades.

The sanctuary will be open to visitors from 2pm-4pm on Saturday and Sunday.

Donations of food, bedding or cash can be made to support its work.

Carol said: "It is so that people can come along and see the work that we do and the animals we look after, and hopefully support us."

"Like all animal shelters we are under a great deal of pressure at the moment with the recession, which is affecting everything."

Make your voice count on High St

Sir, I am finding it very difficult to contain my frustration over the new delays to the proposed pedestrianisation of the High Street. Having seen the latest (or should I now say last) scheme go through extended consultation and negotiations, with a public enquiry promised first for September and then for January 2012, I was amazed to be informed at the borough council's Haverhill Working Party meeting that this scheme was being withdrawn.

And the reasons for its withdrawal at this very late stage? It is deemed unsafe to increase the amount of traffic using Quakers Lane. So it's taken 12 months, and the input of highly-paid staff, to confirm what any reasonable member of the public already knew.

Anxious to not lose too much further time, the county council tried to get agreement to a new scheme, without having its feasibility and safety assessed, thereby repeating their previous mistakes. Thanks to the swift intervention of my colleagues I was able to ensure that no consultation on new proposals would take place until the "experts" had confirmed it was a workable solution. So, no changes to pedestrianisation in 2011, and in my opinion highly unlikely in 2012.

At the same meeting, there were also discussions regarding physical changes to the layout of the High Street, so that, when not pedestrianised, it reduced the speed of vehicles using it. Having previously agreed there would be full public consultation on the proposals during August, which clearly didn't happen, county council staff presented the changes as "set in stone" (their inappropriate words). These changes, which might reduce vehicle speeds outside pedestrianisation times, will have a detrimental impact on our successful, and much valued, Saturday market, to say nothing of other uses of the High Street (eg late-night Christmas shopping, Sunday Continental markets, etc).

To the best of my knowledge there have been no speed-related accidents in the High Street in the past 10 years and only two vehicle/pedestrian accidents, both involving young children, one during a time when the street was "pedestrianised". Again, with colleagues, I managed to get agreement that no further action will be taken regarding physical changes to the High Street until full public consultation had been undertaken. So, watch out for the consultation and make sure you comment because, regardless of what happens regarding pedestrianisation in the future, these physical changes to layout will occur.

I am not an expert in traffic management, but I am proud to have been a Haverhill resident for more than 40 years. My and your local knowledge about the town, the High Street and surrounding areas, how the area is used and when must influence design changes. Make your voice count now, before it's too late.

Cllr Maureen Byrne
Mayor of Haverhill

Town has plenty for young people

Sir, I write regarding your article 'Cuts blamed for rise in thuggery' (Weekly News, September 8). Like many local residents I too was saddened to learn that the Haverhill youth club had closed. But unlike the One Haverhill Group who met recently I know just how many youth groups there currently are in the town run by volunteers. Everyone appears to have forgotten that Haverhill is very lucky to have Rainbows, Brownies, Guides, Beavers, Cubs, Scouts, Girls Brigade, Go Wild etc – all run by those of us who give up our time voluntarily to help young people every week. The Volunteer Centre reminded me recently that the reason we do not get paid is not because we are worthless, it is because we are priceless!

So my suggestion to those who really want a youth club is run it voluntarily – lots of us do it and it is very rewarding. And to everyone who currently works with local young people voluntarily – thank you! You are doing a fantastic job and I'm sure that the One Haverhill Group just forgot to acknowledge it.

Two councillors will be on hand

Sir, Cllr Karen Richardson and I will once again be in the library on Saturday from 10am-noon. If you have any problems or issues you would like to discuss, please do come along and see us there. In case you can't get down to the library on Saturday our contact details are on this letter, so please do give either of us a ring and we will see if we can help. We look forward to meeting you on Saturday.

Well done on summer fun

Sir, a big thank-you to Haverhill Town Council for 'Summer in Haverhill.'

All the activities were very enjoyable, family-friendly and took into account ages and abilities, and a great deal of those activities were free.

The school's out diary was packed full of events which were well organised and run. A great deal of families benefited.

I would also like to praise Abbeycroft staff, especially those from Haverhill Leisure Centre, who were so enthusiastic and helpful to the children. Well done to all concerned.

'It's time for traffic action'

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

MEMBERS of a new town board have been urged to tackle traffic and parking issues which have remained unresolved for more than two decades – despite ongoing complaints.

About 50 residents attended the first public forum of the One Haverhill group, where they had been invited to raise issues of concern.

Among them was Brian Thomas of Crowland Road, who raised the issue of potentially dangerous three-four-inch cracks and subsidence in his street, caused by heavy lorries and cars using it as a 'rat-run' to get from one side of the town to the other.

Consultation is under way on plans to make the road one-way.

Mr Thomas said: "It is the only access for ambulances coming from Camps Road and I know of three occasions when it has been blocked up in emergencies and "I know of three other children who have been injured.

It is time that something was done before someone else is killed the ambulance has had to go all the way round the other way back.

"That takes something like five or six minutes and you are talking about a person's life.

"It has taken 25 years to get where we are and I don't think you are taking it seriously enough. A 12-year-old girl was killed and she would have been about 28 now.

"I know of three other children who have been injured. It is time that something was done before someone else is killed."

More complaints were raised about illegal parking in Haverhill High Street and Insp Chris Galley told the meeting that 470 warning notices had been issued during a recent clampdown, but only 31 fixed penalty tickets were issued.

Those present agreed that police should continue to target the area and issue more tickets. A public inquiry is due to take place next year on whether the High Street should be closed to traffic during the day.

Barry Robbins of Broad Street said he had grown up in the town and felt that after more than 20 years of discussions, these issues should have been resolved. He said: "If you are still taking about it after 20 years, you are obviously not getting it right.

"Nothing is being done, it is just more talking – when is someone going to stand up and do something?"

Steve Boor of Suffolk County Council's Highways department said north/south movement of traffic in Haverhill was difficult and it was hoped to solve the Crowland Road issue without moving the problem elsewhere.

Bursary for crash hero Bianca, 18

Determined: Bianca Ho.

Picture: Warren Gunn 593623.

A FEARLESS teenager has been presented with a bursary by an educational trust in support of her university ambitions.

The Peter and Ruth Lloyd Trust, established in 2008, gave its third annual award of £800 to 18-year-old Bianca Ho, from Weston Colville, who is heading to the University of Sussex to study biomedical sciences, following an interview – without any knowledge of her heroic exploits.

In May 2009, Bianca sprang into action after she saw a car swerve off Balsham Road, near Fulbourn, and hit a tree, while she was travelling home with her family.

The youngster immediately dialled 999 and went to help 22-year-old Nathan Richards, who was trapped in the car, by talking to him and calming him before he was cut free by firefighters and taken to Addenbrooke's.

Peter Lloyd served as a wireless operator at RAF Watlington Common from 1944 to 1945, where he met radar plotter Ruth Lloyd before their marriage in 1946. Although they then lived away from the area, the pair often returned to the Watlington area, taking part in reunions and twice-yearly services at the airfield memorial.

Following Ruth's death in 2001 and Peter's in 2008, their children set up a trust in their name with the aim of helping deserving young people from the parishes of Carlton cum Willingham, Langford and Jonathan Drury.

Well done: Bianca Ho receives her bursary from Peter and Ruth Lloyd trustees Suzanne Langford and Jonathan Drury.

Great Thurlow, Little Thurlow, West Wickham, West Watlington, Weston Colville and Withersfield start university life.

Bianca, who studied at Hills Road Sixth Form, Cambridge, plans to eventually go into medicine and become a doctor specialising in paediatrics.

David McSorley, chairman of trustees, said: "Bianca stood out from the other applicants during interview because of her determination to succeed.

"It shone through that she was a hard-working young person."

Mr McSorley said it wasn't until after the interview that he found online a news article that described her role in the car crash.

He added: "She said nothing about it at all to us – she is a very modest young woman."

Bianca said: "While I was at Hills Road Sixth Form College we were made aware of the trust and I knew that my education was going to be expensive and several years long before I could qualify as a doctor so help for books would be great.

"I decided to apply and the interview went well.

"I am very grateful for the bursary – I couldn't have asked for more before starting university."

She added: "I don't like to brag about the car incident. It wasn't mentioned in interview so I didn't raise it."

Previous winners were Chloe Westley from Weston Colville in 2009, and Laura Bass from West Wickham a year later.

Action plan for market is unveiled

NEW business plans have been drawn up to boost the market in Haverhill.

Plans for Haverhill and Bury St Edmunds markets aim to create 'exciting atmospheres which attract new customers and professional environments where stallholders can trade successfully'.

Cllr Sara Mildmay-White, cabinet member for economic development, said: "Both markets have a huge role to play in the success of their town centres so it is vital that we make sure they can thrive in such a competitive economic climate."

"We want our markets to continue to be vibrant, exciting and positively buzzing with the type of excellent value, high-quality goods that customers demand these days. We will be working with our market traders to create an environment for success."

St Edmundsbury Borough Council operates the Friday/Saturday Haverhill and Wednesday/Saturday Bury St Edmunds markets. The council's business plan follows recommendations in a report from the National Association of British Market Authorities (NABMA) and consultations with traders.

It looks at ways to attract new traders – by targeting stallholders at markets trading on different days and offering incentives, as well as new customers.

Ideas include a social hub in the Bury market, with high-quality food and cookery demonstrations using local produce, plus crowd-pulling events and entertainments for both markets.

Other proposed actions include encouraging traders to have a greater emphasis on promoting more local produce and goods.

Another suggestion is to introduce a shoppers charter, which is a familiar feature of many other markets across the country.

The aim is to ensure a high-quality shopping experience, including visits from 'mystery shoppers' and customer surveys.

Traders are getting the proposals – available on www.stedmundsbury.gov.uk/markets – this week, before discussion at a meeting with market representatives later in the month.

Race night is in aid of Kenyan kids

HAVING a flutter at a race night will boost the funds of a charity which has been helping children in Kenya for the past decade.

The event will take place at Haverhill Rovers Football Club in Chalkstone Way on Saturday, September 24, with doors open at 7pm and the first race at 8pm. Programmes cost £1 each and those attending can be a horse-owner for £10.

All proceeds are in aid of Focus on Africa, a charity started by the late Peter Plumb, now run by his son in law Brian Boltwood. The charity raises between £5,000 and £7,000 each year to help children and orphans in Kenya.

Programmes and information are available on 07887 997648 or visit www.focus-on-africa.co.uk.

On a roll: Rebecca Godfrey receives her £50 prize for winning the most money at the charity casino night from Paul Donno. CP

Everyone's a winner – especially hospice – at charity casino night

ROULETTE and blackjack tables were set up for a charity casino night which raised £1,714 for a hospice.

The black tie event was organised by thebestofhaverhill and Paul Donno & Co Ltd and held at the Purple Mango Indian Restaurant near Haverhill to raise money for St Nicholas Hospice Care.

It was part of the Towergate Accumulator Challenge that Paul Donno is taking part in. Last year the company won the Accumulator Challenge, beating about 40 other businesses from West Suffolk and raising more than £3,000 for the hospice in the process.

Paul said: "We organised the charity casino night in 2010 and it was so successful we thought we would do it again this year. We had about 70 guests and it was a very enjoyable evening."

"I would like to thank all those people who supported the event by donating prizes for our mini-auction, making donations, buying tickets and getting into the spirit of the event on the night. We raised £470 just from the sale of chips for the roulette and blackjack tables."

The gaming tables and croupiers were provided by local entertainment company Circuit Entertainments and owner Eric Armstrong wowed the guests with his magic tricks.

Local businesswoman Rebecca Godfrey, from health and nutrition company FLP4Life, won the £50 cash prize for the highest winnings. Rebecca adopted a very high risk strategy – playing all her chips on the last game of roulette. Fortunately, her numbers came up.

Elaine Carr from thebestofhaverhill said: "People are so generous in their support of local charities, despite the economic climate. It's great to be part of such a kind-hearted business community."

"The casino night was a fun event; everyone enjoyed themselves as well as helping to raise money for St Nicholas Hospice Care. Now of course the big question is whether Paul Donno has done enough to win the Towergate Accumulator Challenge for the second year in a row."

Sounds good: director Alan Goodall, centre, with Haverhill mayor Maureen Byrne and some younger members of the band. CP.

Band in tune for special day

YOUNG and older musicians spent a day making music and tackled some new pieces bought with a grant from their town council.

Haverhill Youth and Community Band (HYAC Band) organised a training day on Saturday at Westfield Primary School.

Some 25 members attended the day, which took them from 10am through to a short presentation concert at 4pm. The director for the day was Alan Goodall, from north London, and specialises in working with young people in schools in the Harrow area.

Alan was impressed with the ability of the players, usually directed by local teacher Diane Pannell, and by the range of ages who enjoy making music together, from 6 to 72.

New music tackled was purchased with a grant from Haverhill Town Council, which also paid for most of the other expenses of the day.

Haverhill mayor Maureen Byrne popped in to listen in the morning and congratulated the players on the wonderful sound they were making.

HYAC Band will be performing music from this training day at Haverhill Arts Centre on Sunday, October 2 at 7.30pm in a concert entitled Where There's Brass.

They will share the billing with Haverhill Silver Band, who will be fresh from their National Finals appearance in Cheltenham on September 25.

The test piece for the contest is The Force of Destiny by Verdi and will be included in the concert program. Tickets are available from the Box Office on (01440) 714140.

Anyone who plays brass or percussion and is interested in getting involved in the HYAC Band can contact Diane Pannell on 01440 761769.

Anger as traffic brought to halt by roadworks

AN angry motorist is calling for roadworks to be done at night after taking more than an hour to travel along a short stretch of the A1307.

Chris Cullum was travelling from the Four Went Ways junction towards his home in Haverhill at 2.30pm on Monday afternoon, when traffic came to a standstill as he approached Horseheath on the section of dual carriageway approaching the village.

Mr Cullum said: "It was complete chaos – it took me about three-quarters of an hour to get as far as the Red Lion pub. There are signs saying that resurfacing work is going on for nine days, but no signs on the dual carriageway to say people have to merge in turn from one lane to two. People were using both lanes, and then people on the outside were trying to cut in."

"It is the main road into Haverhill, and this was not even during rush hour. Why is it not being done at night? There are no houses nearby, so it would not disturb anyone and would cause much less disruption."

A spokesman for Cambridgeshire

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

County Council said sections of the road were being resurfaced at a cost of £200,000 and the work would continue until Saturday.

Work was being carried out between 9.30am-3.30pm to avoid the busiest periods. Full traffic controls – including traffic lights – would be in place during the working period.

He said: "Unfortunately on Monday, after work had started, a resurfacing machine being used by the contractor broke down and had to be repaired before work could recommence, with materials which had already been spread on the road surface, and this work had to be completed before the road could be cleared. This delayed the work by about 90 minutes and did cause some added disruption for motorists using this very busy road."

"We can only apologise for the delays which were caused by factors beyond the control of the contractor working on behalf of Cambridgeshire County Council."

Sturmer Hall is perfect fair venue

Sturmer Hall: Popular venue.

WHILE planning a wedding can be hugely rewarding, there's no doubt that it can be hard work.

Make your life a little easier with a visit to a top bridal fair this weekend, and you'll find everything you could want for your nuptials all in one place.

The fair, which will run on Sunday, September 18 from

ADVERTISEMENT FEATURE

10.30am to 3.30pm, is to be hosted at Sturmer Hall's lakeside pavilion.

Whether it's clothing or flowers, dining or decorating inspiration, you'll find it all at the fair, without having to traipse from shop to shop.

Companies who will be present at the event include

Sturmer Hall: Perfect venue for your perfect wedding fair.

Fiona's Flowers, Amanda Julia Couture, Blooming Lovely Flowers and Flower Power, among many, many more.

For brides looking for that all important dress, there will be half hour fashion shows at midday and 2pm, with items for mothers and bridesmaids available as well.

The attractive Hall and its grounds are one of the area's hidden secrets, and a perfect wedding venue. See tables set up especially in the exhibition hall and you might even have your venue decided by the end of the day!

Refreshments will be available for purchase, and entry to the event is free.

Visit the fair at Sturmer Hall, Sturmer, near Haverhill.

To contact the Hall regarding booking a wedding, call (01440) 705 368 or visit www.sturmerhall.com.

White dress nirvana

WHETHER you want to float down the aisle in a fluffy meringue or saunter Pippa Middleton-style in a sleek number, there's a style to suit every bride.

"A bride is always looking for romance," says Marguerite Hannah, designer for Alan Hannah (www.alanhannah.co.uk).

"They want to be demure but look a million dollars; a dress that transforms them to their very best."

So forget the husband-to-be momentarily. With all eyes on you and your frock, say 'I do' to the wedding dress of your dreams.

THE MIDDLETON EFFECT

With copycat versions soon appearing of whatever she wears in public, Kate Middleton's wedding gown was always guaranteed to inspire every woman marrying their own Prince Charm ing.

Reminiscent of Grace Kelly's intricate lace dress, the Sarah Burton creation for Alexander McQueen has set a trend for a bevy of brides-to-be seeking understated glamour.

"Kate's dress is a great look for girls to achieve; not only is it very classic and stylish but an easy shape for most to wear," Hannah suggests.

Forget backless, strapless and side splits, the demure look is the look of the moment.

"There will be a trend towards brides going slightly more formal in their choice of dress, with covered arms and, of course, the use of lace," suggests bridal designer Ian Stuart (www.ianstuart-bride.com).

But unlike Kate, who slipped into evening gown number two with circle skirt and diamante belt, most brides look for that one elusive dress to impress throughout the big day.

"Brides are moving away from wanting a traditional wedding dress and are choosing instead to invest in more of a unique 'special' dress to take them from the ceremony to the last dance," according to bridal designer Suzannah (www.suzannah.com).

NEW BRIDAL BRIGADE

Even before the Duchess of Cambridge wowed her two billion spectators in Alexander McQueen, the mood in bridal fashion was shifting.

Her dress has undoubtedly boosted the bridal power of lace and covered shoulders, with designers unveiling a similar train of thought at the recent White Gallery exhibition for 2012 – the bridal equivalent of Fashion Week.

"The key trend has moved from the popular strapless look of past seasons to 'on the shoulder' with the use of straps, short sleeves and sheer necklines using lace and organza," explains Hannah.

"The alluring look of showing shoulders and arms is still key, so the use of sheer fabrics is a major look for this summer. There is more use of lace and embossed and textured fabrics."

Though the floor-sweeping gown is every girl's princess fantasy, you don't have to follow tradition to look sensational on your wedding day.

Hannah says: "Long dresses are still far more popular than short, and there is a definite trend for longer trains and veils."

"But for the hip bride and those who are marrying abroad, shorter dresses or even a Sixties-style palazzo pant jumpsuit is a great look."

For autumn/winter brides, summer silhouettes and texture trends will continue but with the addition of sheer capes, jackets and faux fur throws for extra glamour.

DREAM DRESS DISCOVERY

The key to white dress nirvana is an open mind, according to bridal designer Marguerite Hannah.

"A good wedding dress should be transforming, and you cannot feel the magic until you try it on," she advises.

Here are her top tips for finding 'the' dress:

■ Try on a wide variety of dresses – don't choose the first one you try on. More often than not what a girl has in mind at the beginning is not what she ends up selecting.

■ Experiment with one dress in every silhouette and eliminate the shapes that don't suit so you can try on more of the ones that work for you.

■ Choose a dress that flatters your body shape and size, for example a shorter petite girl looks great in a column dress as it elongates the shape, while larger girls look fantastic in A-line shaped dresses.

■ Make sure the style of dress suits the wedding you have planned. If you're having an overseas wedding, for example, a huge dress would be too hot and difficult to pack, whereas a short dress or even bridal trouser suit could be perfect.

■ If you choose a plain dress you can always achieve drama via the accessories you choose.

Wedding dress: You don't have to follow tradition to look sensational.

Chambers link for networking

SPEAKERS at a new business event will include the former President of the British Chambers of Commerce Neville Reyner CBE.

He will be among the guest speakers at the first ever joint West Suffolk Chambers of Commerce event and the finale of the new Bury St Edmunds Business Festival.

Mr Reyner, who recently stepped down as President of the British Chambers of Commerce, will address the first ever joint networking event for Bury St Edmunds, Haverhill and Newmarket Chambers of Commerce, supported by Suffolk Chamber of Commerce, at Ickworth West Wing on Friday, September 23.

Mr Reyner, who is Chairman of the Greater Cambridge and Greater Peterborough LEP, will be joined by Patrick Gihana Mulenga, commercial attaché to the Rwandan Embassy. Rwanda's top athletes will be using Bury St Edmunds Leisure Centre as their Pre-Games Training Camp for the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games next year.

UK Female Entrepreneurship Ambassador Jan Cavelle completes the line-up of speakers. Jan runs a furniture manufacturing business in Haverhill and is one of 250 ambassadors in the EU.

Sarah Howard, chairman of Haverhill Chamber of Commerce, said: "We hope members and non-members will use the afternoon to network with other businesses and hear some great speakers."

The event takes place from 2pm to 5pm, with tickets priced at £30 for chamber members and £35 for non-members, including champagne and afternoon tea, available from www.businessfestival.org.

Jennifer, 9, takes over sweet factory

EVERY child's dream came true for 9-year-old Jennifer Lambert when she was put in charge of a sweet factory for the day.

Jennifer won her Willy Wonka-style prize as one of just 10 children from across the country successful in the Haribo Little Apprentice competition.

Jennifer, from Haverhill, experienced the prize of a lifetime when she got to see what really goes on inside the world famous sweet factory. They entered the Happy World of Haribo, working with the team to taste new treats and come up with their own ideas, flavours and textures that they would like to see from the brand.

To win the prize Jennifer, pictured, had to tell the team at Haribo how she would run one of the largest sweet factories in the country for a day. Ideas included all the staff wearing yellow to be like the Haribo Goldbear and designing new cat-shaped pieces that would come in different flavours.

Haribo's brand communication manager Louise Morrison said: "It is every child's dream to run a sweet factory and just once a year we make sure a small group of children experience this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity."

"The kids absolutely loved it. They experienced the excitement and fun that takes place behind closed doors and sampled tasty treats which we haven't even launched yet."

"Some of the ideas we received really gave us an insight into the creativity and imaginations of the children, with some fantastic suggestions about how they would run the factory for a day. Jennifer certainly rose to the challenge with some fun-filled ideas."

Flowers and art at harvest event

FLORAL displays and art will help celebrate the harvest season at a parish church.

HARTFEST is a harvest, flower and art festival taking place at St Mary's Church, Haverhill, from Friday, September 23 to Sunday, September 25. It will be open from 10am to 4pm each day, with floral displays and artwork from 10 schools, as well as refreshments and ploughman's lunches on sale. It will end with a Songs of Praise service on Sunday at 5pm.

Betty McLatchy, one of the organisers, said: "HARTFEST is celebrating all that is good about Haverhill and the surrounding area. The Harvest Festival celebrates our farming community who work so hard for all our benefits. The Art Festival celebrates our very special and impressive schooling in the area, whose staff and pupils have received such amazing reviews."

"The festival also celebrates our church ministry, sacred music of the church and will have extra special floral displays. Come along and help celebrate the good things of your town."

Free sessions to get people fit and healthy

FREE sessions are on offer to help West Suffolk residents get active and healthy.

Live Well Suffolk launched its 'Let's get Physical' campaign on Monday to help people take practical steps towards a more healthy future.

As part of the campaign, which runs throughout September and October, people can sign up for free taster sessions to try activities ranging from zumba to yoga and hip-hop street dance to spinning.

Classes will run in Haverhill, Bury St Edmunds and Sudbury – to find out where and when, visit Live Well Suffolk's new website at www.livewellsuffolk.org.uk.

The taster sessions are run by qualified instructors and are suitable for absolute beginners and all ages. These will be followed by six-week courses for those who are keen to carry on their new exercise regime.

A survey has also been launched to find out about the exercise habits of Suffolk residents. To take part and be in with a chance of winning Go Ape tickets, visit www.livewellsuffolk.org.uk/letsgetphysical.

Tim Roberts, director of Live Well Suffolk, said: "Whatever your age, being physically active can help you lead a healthier and happier life."

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

"Exercise doesn't have to take up lots of time, be expensive or hard work. The best way to get your recommended weekly amount of physical activity is to do frequent short sessions and try to make sure you have some fun too."

"The free taster sessions aim to introduce people to new forms of physical activity that they haven't tried before, and our health experts will be on hand to give tips and advice on getting fit, losing weight and staying healthy. The free places will run out fast, so contact us soon to make sure you don't miss out."

NHS guidelines state that to maintain a healthy lifestyle, adults should aim to do at least 30 minutes of physical activity five times a week.

To find out about the free classes available or to book your place, call the Live Well Suffolk team on (01473) 229292, email tasters@livewellsuffolk.org.uk or visit the website.

For younger Suffolk residents aged 2-18, the free 12-week programme 'Alive 'n' Kicking' is also available. It is aimed at children who are above a healthy weight and includes sociable physical activities and nutrition advice for the whole family.

Victims conned by 'boiler room'

INVESTORS in Cambridgeshire and Suffolk were among the victims of a Spanish-based 'boiler-room' fraud which netted more than £8 million.

Seven men are facing jail after being convicted following a three-month trial at Ipswich Crown Court for their part in the operation, which targeted thousands of investors in the UK, applying high pressure telesales techniques to push shares in a bio-diesel company, Worldwide Bio Refineries.

The one defendant who pleaded guilty gave evidence for the prosecution. They are to be sentenced on September 23 and were remanded custody.

Dennis Potter, 62, who lived in Singapore, was found guilty of conspiring to defraud investors in his company, Worldwide Bio Refineries Ltd, during 2005 and 2006. His fellow company director Redmond "Ray" Charles Johnson, 66, pleaded guilty to the same offence.

Five other men, who were responsible for the management of

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

so-called boiler-rooms, were also found guilty of being conspirators. They are Steven John Murphy, 35, and Greg Pearson, 38, both of Marbella, Paul Daniel Murphy, 37, and Lee Eliot Homan, 39, both of Hertfordshire. Peter Bibby, 44, of south London, who absconded before the trial, was tried in absentia and there is a warrant for his arrest.

Commenting on the convictions, Serious Fraud Office director Richard Alderman said, "This is an excellent result. Not only do boiler-room fraudsters prey on vulnerable people, they also deprive genuine businesses of the capital they need to grow."

"Quite bluntly, they ruin lives. I am delighted that the SFO is playing its part in tracking down operations like these and bringing fraudsters to book."

The share selling was undertaken by salesmen working from a number of boiler-rooms in Marbella and Barcelona, although many of them used false names and claimed to be calling from offices in Frankfurt, Stockholm or Amsterdam. The business prospects of the company and the bio-diesel market were inflated by WBR's directors and the salesmen, who claimed that substantial international business was being done and that the business's shares were valued at £110 million.

Investors, including 11 from Cambridgeshire and 17 from Suffolk, believed that their investment in a successful bio-diesel enterprise would net them significant short-term returns, bolstered by claims that WBR was to be floated on the stock market which would result in a significant increase in share value. These claims were bogus.

The reality was that the UK bio-diesel plant produced no output and, with only limited imports coming from the Singapore plant, WBR was not being managed with any intention of it becoming a growing commercial success generating profits from sales of bio-diesel.

Of the cash obtained from investors, about £4m was transferred to accounts in Cyprus, Jersey and Spain for the benefit of the boiler-room salesmen.

Fill a bag for heart charity

STAFF at a charity shop have been handing out empty bags in the hope of getting back a bumper crop of full ones during September.

The British Heart Foundation is holding its annual Big Donate event and the charity's shop in High Street, Haverhill, has already organised a street collection as part of the appeal. Empty bags are being distributed throughout September and can be filled with any unwanted goods, including clothing, books, shoes, toys, ornaments, and even rags, which can be sold on.

Tractor taken from trailer

A TRACTOR was stolen after it was detached from its trailer.

The blue New Holland model was parked outside farm buildings in Little Bradley, near Little Thurlow, before it was stolen between 9pm on Wednesday, September 7, and 7am the next day. Calls should be made to Sgt Kevin Jay at the St Edmundsbury Rural North Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Gone but not forgotten

The hit musical Buddy is 22 years old – the same age as Buddy Holly when he died. More than 50 years on from that fateful night in Iowa, Buddy's widow tells why her husband will always be with her.

IMMORTALISED by Don McLean in his song American Pie as the day the music died, the date will forever be ingrained on the memory of Maria Elena, widow of Charles Hardin 'Buddy' Holly.

Each year, she commemorates the passing of her husband, just 22 when he died, in the same way.

"I pray for Buddy, like I do every night," she begins. "I light a candle, I buy flowers, and stay home."

In June 1958, when the couple had been married less than six months, the small plane carrying Buddy, 17-year-old Ritchie Valens, J.P. 'the Big Bopper' Richardson, 28, and pilot Roger Peterson, 21, plummeted from the night sky into a frozen Iowa cornfield.

Though the 50 years that have passed have dulled some of the pain, the shattering impact of the accident still remains with Maria Elena.

"When Buddy died it was so sudden," she reflects. "Those kinds of deaths are very, very difficult to deal with because you don't have the chance to say goodbye."

The circumstances surrounding Buddy's inclusion on the fateful Winter Dance Party Tour of 1959 only add to the sense of tragedy. "I mean, he left home against my will – I was pregnant," says Maria Elena. "He said 'It will be a short tour – I just can't continue without getting my own money to do what we're planning to do'. We had plans to open record companies and our own publishing company and Buddy also wanted to develop new artists, even at that time."

Folklore has it that Maria Elena had a premonition about the crash before he left for the tour. "Absolutely, as a matter of fact we were both dreaming," she confirms. "Buddy had a dream about leaving me on top of a building and I dreamt about a comet, this great ball of fire coming down."

Having discovered news of the crash on television, Maria Elena says she fell into a 'catatonic state', unable to digest what had happened. She miscarried soon after.

It was in England on his 1958 tour that the Buddy Holly legend first took off. "Buddy was more recognised in the UK than the United States," she says.

The trademark glasses came to represent everything Buddy stood for. Elvis he wasn't, with an unconventional look and unique talent. This certainly made an impression on the Brits.

Paul McCartney once said that at least the first 40 songs the Beatles wrote were Buddy Holly-influenced. "I would say that John Lennon and Buddy would've been the best of friends," suggests Maria Elena.

"I know Paul also loved and respected Buddy, but I think John and Buddy would've got together to do a duet."

Natural then that it was on the London stage that Buddy's legend took on a new life with Buddy: The Buddy Holly Story, in 1989.

A smash hit in the West End, on tour and around the world for the past 22 years, Buddy kick-started the craze for "jukebox musicals".

Over the years, many actors have had the task of filling Buddy's shoes on stage, with Roger Rowley and Glen Joseph sharing duties on the current tour.

Maria Elena says: "Each Buddy has done a tremendous job in the way they portray him – I'm sure Buddy would've approved."

Having a laugh

THIS month's Comedy Club at The Cambridge Belfry in Cambourne offers three comics fresh from their success at the Edinburgh Comedy Festival. Headliner Rich Wilson recently seen on Sky1's Science Abuse, has been described as "a very, very funny man" by no less an authority than Frank Skinner, while opening act Eddy Brimson's eclectic CV includes a series of successful books and videos about football violence and acting roles in Absolutely Fabulous, The Thin Blue Line, Casualty and The Bill. Belfast boy Ryan McDonnell hosts. See them in action tomorrow, from 7.30pm. For more information, call (01954) 714600 or visit www.hahaheeh.com.

Good and dirty

TAKING inspiration from the ambitiousness of Muse and the rousing anthemia of Placebo, and grounded in an appreciation of Bowie and other greats, Never Been To Mars is the new single from The Dirt Tracks; one of Spain's foremost live bands who are known for putting on a great show. The band was formed in 2000 and produced their first album in 2006, to critical acclaim. Judge for yourself when they play the Portland Arms, Cambridge, tonight at 8pm. Tickets are £5 on the door.

Breakfast served

LOCAL musician George Breakfast has a song for most occasions and, if not, he'll write one! He's been bursting into song at all sorts of venues, performing a mix of swing jazz type numbers, rock 'n' roll, country, funk, old style rhythm and blues, soul, blues and folk. He will be joined tomorrow at The Golden Hind, Milton Road, Cambridge, by Olwyn Benjamin, a singer from the northwest. Tickets are £4 on the door (£2 members, £1 performers). Contact (01638) 603986.

Grime to get going

■ Grime-punk five-piece Hadouken! take their name from a nifty manoeuvre in the Street Fighter video game. (Whatever happenend to bands naming themselves after classic existentialist literature?)

■ Formed in Leeds in 2006, they are: singer, writer and producer James Smith, his girlfriend, synth player Alice Spooner, guitarist Daniel Rice, bassist Chris Purcell and drummer Nick Rice.

■ Radio 1 gave the Leeds combo their big break in 2007 when The Streets' Mike Skinner, standing in for Zane Lowe, played That Boy That Girl.

■ The band's first album,

Music for an Accelerated Culture, was released in 2008. The follow-up, For The Masses reached the top 20 in January 2010.

■ At the start of 2011 they released the single Oxygen on their own label, Surface Noise. They recently signed to Ministry of Sound, and their third album is due out early next year.

■ The Hadoukenators (as they call themselves) music actually coined a new phrase - 'grindie'. (That's grime and indie, if you were wondering).

■ Hadouken! Play The Junction in Cambridge tomorrow. Tickets are £12.50. Contact (01223) 511 511 / www.junction.co.uk

Dates for your diary

THERE are no live events this week but Haverhill Arts Centre has plenty of treats lined in the near future.

■ Haverhill Sinfonia are holding their annual soloist competition where international classical musicians compete on September 24 from 9.30am. ■ On September 25 Monkey Nuts Comedy Club is all geared up for the new term with three top-of-the class comedians in the form of Dave Twentyman, Tim Clark and Miles Jupp (subject to change).

■ Haverhill Keyboard Club bring back the popular Chris Powell on September 27.

■ In a new venture, the Arts Centre and Haverhill Art Group present an art history talk by the eminent Professor Slinn who enlightens us on the life and work of Salvador Dali on September 28.

■ On the silver screen we have Brad Pitt and Sean Penn starring in The Tree of Life (12A) today at 7.45pm. Lauded at Cannes, this is the story of a jaded businessman looking back on his childhood in 1950s Texas.

■ The final instalment of the Harry Potter series, Deathly Hallows: Part II 2D (12A) is showing tomorrow at 6pm and next Tuesday at 7.45pm.

■ The hit comedy Bridesmaids (15) is showing next Wednesday 21 and Thursday at 7.45pm. For further details visit www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk

The big film

JANE EYRE 3D certificate PG 120m

THE Bronte sisters are back in fashion this autumn. November heralds Andrea Arnold's eagerly-anticipated adaptation of Wuthering Heights, distinguished by the casting of James Howson as the first black actor to portray Heathcliff on the big screen. In the meantime, director Cary Joji Fukunaga spoils us with his artfully composed version of Charlotte Bronte's timeless romance, the first film version of Jane Eyre since Zeffirelli paired Charlotte Gainsbourg and William Hurt as the lovers across the social divide. Fukunaga chooses Mia Wasikowska as the much-abused heroine and is rewarded with a moving and emotional performance. With a mournful look into the camera, the fast-rising Australian actress conveys all of the unspoken desires and shattered dreams of a young woman. She is beautiful yet ghostly pale, flushing with colour when Jane experiences the first pangs of love. Michael Fassbender proves a sexy Rochester, who falls under Jane's spell but conceals a terrible, dark secret that could poison their relationship. Fukunaga's film opens with Jane fleeing Thornfield Hall in tears, where she was employed as governess for Adele Varnes (Settbon Moore), the young ward of Edward Rochester. Stumbling across the moors, she seeks refuge with clergyman St John Rivers (Jamie Bell) and his sisters Diana (Holliday Grainger) and Mary (Tamzin Merchant) at Moor House. As Jane recuperates, she recalls her turbulent past and her childhood as a 10-year-old (Amelia Clarkson) with her cruel aunt Mrs Reed (Sally Hawkins).

A friendship with sickly girl Helen Burns (Freya Parks) stiffens Jane's resolve and once she comes of age, she finds employment at Thornfield, where housekeeper Mrs Fairfax (Dame Judi Dench) welcomes her. Fleeting romantic notions with Rochester are extinguished with the arrival of Blanche Ingram (Imogen Poots), who the downstairs staff believe will become the master's wife. The film condenses the novel into two hours of yearning and regret. Wasikowska and Fassbender lead an exemplary ensemble cast including Dench as a bustling maternal figure and Hawkins as a tight-lipped lady of the manor, who can turn a room icy cold with a single withering glance.

Don't let your harvest waste

OK, so your truck is now buckling under the weight of your fattening courgettes, juicy tomatoes, plums, green beans, aubergines and peppers – and the chances are some of it will end up in the bin unless you're feeding a bunch of hungry vegetarians every night.

However, don't despair and don't let your courgettes turn into marrows just because you don't know what to do with them. A few recipe books may give you inspiration to make a job lot of ratatouille or other veggie delights which you can freeze and enjoy at a later date.

As part of its Grow Yourself Healthy campaign, BBC Gardeners' World magazine is inviting people to reap the rewards of their labour during Harvest Week this week, with a list of suggestions on how to make the most of your crops on its website www.gardenersworld.com and in the September issue of the magazine.

Suggestions include hosting your own harvest party with the help of a range of party menus on the website, which feature mouth-watering recipes to show off your home-grown crops.

by Hannah Stephenson

If you have an allotment, organise a swap shop where allotment holders can bring their excess produce to swap for some of your harvest.

However, if you are reluctant to part with the home-grown fruits of your labour, there are many ways to preserve it so you can be enjoying it well into the winter months.

Tomatoes can be frozen to use in sauces, casseroles and other cooked dishes. Immerse them in boiling water, peel off the skins, let them cool and then store them in batches in freezer bags. Just remember, they will be soft when they are defrosted, so won't be suitable for salads.

Alternatively, make tomato chutneys using a mixture of vinegar, salt and sugar, with added spices. Apples, garlic and onions can also be used to add flavour to chutneys.

Many vegetables can easily be frozen, by preparing and blanching them first (plunging in boiling water for a couple of minutes and then cooling them in iced water for a few minutes so they don't continue cooking), then transferring to freezer bags. Green beans, asparagus, sweetcorn, carrots, Brussels sprouts and courgettes can all be frozen in this way.

Virtually every fruit can be frozen, but be warned that when it is defrosted it's likely to be soggy and sitting in juice. However, its flavour will not be impaired and such fruits are ideally used in sauces, compotes, pies and tarts.

You need to de-stone stone fruits before freezing, as the stone will give off an almond taint. Apples and plums can be sliced, tossed with lemon and sugar, then frozen.

Don't store any apples ripening before the end of September, as few of these will keep for long. You're better off turning them into puree, juice or dried apple rings. The best keeping varieties hang on the trees through October and are only gathered when hard frost hits them.

Prepare them for storage by placing them in a cool, airy place for a couple of days to sweat out any excess moisture. Put them out on a chilly evening without frost and then put them in storage first thing in the morning before they have warmed.

FRUITS OF GARDEN LABOUR: many vegetables can easily be frozen by preparing and blanching them first.

Lay the apples in trays on a bed of crumpled or shredded newspaper in a frost-free, cool, dark place, such as a garage or shed. Pears can be stored in a similar environment but should not be wrapped.

Other home produce requires dry storage, including potatoes, onions, garlic, pumpkins and winter cabbages. Potatoes should be left to dry off for several hours before storing in a wooden box in a dark, frost-free shed. They should keep until spring.

Parsnips, cabbages, cauliflowers, beets and other roots keep fresh in the ground if covered in loose straw and plastic before everything freezes solid. Alternatively they can be kept in a cellar, or a dead chest-freezer in a shed, where the temperature and humidity are constant, and if the vegetables are put in when cold, they will stay fresh for months, although you would need to perforate part of the lid seal to allow ventilation.

Onions, garlic and shallots keep easily for up to six months if they are well dried in a hot, airy place and then kept cool and dry, hanging in the roof of a dry shed or garage.

There's no reason you shouldn't enjoy the fruits of your labour well into the winter months.

YOUR GUIDE TO MOVING HOME

1 Moving home can be a complicated business and, in the hectic run to the big day, it is all too easy to forget something vital. The Property News offers their readers this handy checklist that should help avoid major pitfalls. We suggest you tick off the items as you deal with them...

WITH FOUR WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- ☐ Check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- ☐ Make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move.
- ☐ Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- ☐ Notify British Telecom and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone facilities at your new home.
- ☐ Arrange for change of address cards to be printed.

WITH TWO WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Confirm all arrangements, times etc, for meter readings, disconnections and reconnections, with authorities and with your buyer and seller.
- ☐ Make sure you have a good stock of packing materials, including sturdy boxes and plenty of string and sticky tape.
- ☐ Begin to throw out unwanted items from attics, wardrobes. What you really don't want you may as well dump now, or send to charity. It's a great time for a good sort out!

WITH ONE WEEK TO GO:

- ☐ Send off change of address cards.
- ☐ Arrange and pay for automatic redirection of your mail by the Post Office.
- ☐ Cancel and pay up accounts for routine delivery services such as milk, groceries, fuel and your Cambridge Evening News. Re-organise these deliveries for your new address.
- ☐ Defrost refrigerators in preparation for move and, if you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.

WITH ONE DAY TO GO:

- ☐ Complete your packing except for those items you are likely to need overnight, and prepare a picnic for moving day.
- ☐ Have a large enough cash 'float' available to deal with unexpected expenses, and make sure you have collected documents and valuables together in a safe place.
- ☐ Cover carpets which are being left behind, so as to minimise damage during furniture removal.
- ☐ Check through previous lists to make sure nothing has been overlooked, then enjoy a worry-free early night!

2 ON MOVING DAY:

- ☐ Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- ☐ Pack items for washing/toiletries.
- ☐ Take down curtains.
- ☐ Take up rugs, carpets, floor coverings, as required.
- ☐ Dismantle any light fittings etc., not included in the sale.
- ☐ Turn off electric appliances.
- ☐ Disconnect cooker.
- ☐ Turn off boiler/central heating.
- ☐ Turn off water.
- ☐ Read gas meter.
- ☐ Read electricity meter.
- ☐ Secure all windows.
- ☐ Lock all doors.
- ☐ Leave key as arranged with new owners.
- ☐ On arrival at your new home, unpack slowly and methodically so that you can check for loss or damage.

3 EXTRA HINTS FOR A SMOOTH MOVE...

WHO TO NOTIFY:

- ☐ Banks.
- ☐ Building Societies.
- ☐ Credit companies.
- ☐ Insurance companies.
- ☐ Gas, Electricity and Water Boards.
- ☐ Telephone company.
- ☐ Local Authority (Rating Department).
- ☐ Driving Licence authorities.
- ☐ Inland Revenue.
- ☐ Store cards and accounts.
- ☐ Other lease, hire or rental companies.
- ☐ Employer.
- ☐ Doctor.
- ☐ Dentist.
- ☐ Schools.
- ☐ Professional Bodies/Trade Unions.
- ☐ Motoring organisations.
- ☐ Newsagent.
- ☐ Friends and relatives.

ATTRACTING QUALITY TENANTS

PROMOTING YOUR PROPERTY

With a strong regional presence and established reputation, Cheffins is well placed to attract quality tenants for your rental property.

Our marketing and promotional campaigns are highly effective, reaching the widest possible audience amongst prospective tenants. We can also provide expert interior design advice to ensure that your property is shown at its best.

A MAJOR REGIONAL PRESENCE

With offices in Cambridge, Newmarket, Ely, Saffron Walden, St Ives and Haverhill, as well as a base in London, Cheffins provides a personal presence and points of contact right across the region – ideal for reaching new tenants and managing properties on a local basis.

EFFECTIVE ADVERTISING

We advertise weekly in the property rental sections of all the major regional newspapers including Cambridge Evening News, Cambridge Property News, Newmarket Weekly News, Ely Weekly News, Saffron Walden Weekly News, St Ives Weekly News and Haverhill Weekly News. The vast majority of these ads are in colour to ensure maximum impact and the best possible presentation of your property.

INTERACTIVE WEBSITE

The internet has undoubtedly become the primary means of searching for rental property and Cheffins' website is one of the most frequently visited sites in the region.

Prospective tenants can view our rental property selection online and, since the site is updated daily, you can be sure that your property reaches a significant market sector within hours of instructing Cheffins.

EMAIL MARKETING

We have a list of email subscribers actively seeking properties to rent. You can be sure that details of your property will reach the appropriate mailboxes as soon as you have approved the rental agreement.

New i30 is compelling

HYUNDAI has unveiled the new-generation i30, as the 2011 Frankfurt Motor Show (IAA) begins, showing an exciting new look for the firm's best-selling C-segment hatchback.

Hyundai expects the new-generation i30 to build on the remarkable success of the original model – the company's first car to be launched with the 'i' prefix. The original i30 was also the first model to be designed and engineered in Europe, the first to be produced at the company's prstige manufacturing facility in the Czech Republic, and the first Hyundai car to receive five stars from Euro-NCAP.

After its July 2007 launch, the i30 went on to increase its sales in Europe every year, attracting 115,000 buyers in 2010 – the highest-ever annual sales figure for an individual Hyundai model in Europe – and achieving total sales of 350,000 units to mid-2011.

Designed and engineered

at the Hyundai Motor Europe Technical Centre in Rüsselsheim, Germany, the new-generation i30 represents a further evolution of the unique Hyundai form language, 'fluidic sculpture', displaying the company's distinctive design DNA.

Thomas Bürkle, chief designer at Hyundai Motor Europe Technical Centre, commented: "The new-generation i30 is recognisable thanks to the Hyundai family face with its signature hexagonal-shaped front grille and the jewel-like design of the headlamps, together with distinctive daytime running lights. These lights present an angular shape within a more softly-edged recess, adding a strong personality to the vehicle, as well as a sense of refinement and luxury.

"Through the profile of the new generation i30, a strong character line runs over the front and rear wheelarches all the way to the tail lamps. A softer, lower character line rises up the car's flank creating a play of light and shadow – a fundamental feature of fluidic sculpture."

The award-winning Five Year Triple Care package provides five years of unlimited-mileage warranty, and five years of roadside assistance and vehicle health checks.

Unlock the power of ENGLISH

All around the world, education is growing in importance and within it English language education – learning English and learning in English – is booming. As one of the premier names in the sector, teaching 10,000 students and teachers a year and supporting learning in nearly 50 countries, we want to share in that boom.

We've been through a burst of growth in recent years, but to get to the next level, we need to focus on the right opportunities in a world of almost infinite possibilities. You will want to make those strategic choices based on good information and a deep understanding of the market. You will want to work with our educational professionals to turn that insight into market-leading products. You will want to deliver the results through sharp execution of your plans involving everyone at Bell.

To succeed, you will need to have a great track record in market analysis and planning, ideally in a service sector and with a premium brand. You will have been part of developing and launching successful products, working in partnership with relevant sector experts. You will have done business internationally and managed channels to reach diverse markets. You will have developed effective sales and marketing teams. Above all, you will have delivered sustainable growth.

HUNDREDS OF NEW VACANCIES EVERY WEEK!

ADVERTISE YOUR VACANCY - CALL 01223 434400

YOU can help in the search for Cambridgeshire's top sports performers of the year!

The LIVING SPORT/Cambridge News awards seek to reward those who excel or who help others to do so at all levels from grassroots to elite.

There are 10 categories, and we need your help to find the nominees.

Sports Performer of the Year is the headline category, and the winner will be following in some illustrious footsteps.

The accolade was scooped last year by Huntingdon gymnast Luke Folwell, who won five medals at the Commonwealth Games in Delhi, while Charlotte Edwards from Pidley, who captained England's women's cricket team to two world cup victories, won in 2009.

In the Disabled Sports Performer category, athlete Charlotte Cox could be in line for a hat-trick, having won the award in the last two years.

The inaugural team of the year award was last year won by the Women's Junior 14 Quadruple Scullers from Ely Rowing Club and King's School, Ely, who started the year with no racing experience and ended in fourth place at the National School Regatta.

That award is open to both professional and amateur organisations, while the Community Club of the Year – which last year went to Cambridge Triathlon Club – is only open to the amateur ranks.

In addition, there are awards for Young Sports Performer, Coach of the Year, Services to Sport, Young Community Volunteer, School of the Year and the Matthew Warn Power of Sport award.

All winners will be forwarded to the BBC East Region Awards, which ultimately feed in to the BBC Sports Personality of the Year award.

In addition, all shortlisted nominees will be invited to the presentation ceremony in November.

To make a nomination, simply fill in the form on this page and send it to LIVING SPORT at the address on the form, or download a form from www.cambridge-news.co.uk/sport or www.livingsport.co.uk

Nominations are accepted for individuals and groups living in or competing for a club or school in the Cambridge and Peterborough area, or who was born in the same area.

Nominations will be accepted by anyone, and groups or individuals can nominate themselves. Only nominations on official forms will be accepted (downloads and photocopies included) and forms must be received by LIVING SPORT by October 7 2011.

Please note, nominees for the Young Sports Performer and Volunteer categories must be 18 years or under on November 30 2011.

It's been a superb year of sport, so don't delay – make your nomination today.

■ Anglia Ruskin University, Barracudas Activity Day Camps and Coaching:HQ have already come on board to sponsor one or more categories in the 2011 LIVING SPORT/Cambridge News Sports Awards.

But there are still several awards up for grabs for any organisations who wish to promote and support the development of sporting talent.

They include Community Club of the Year, Team of the Year, the Services to Sport award and Young Sports Performer of the Year.

If you would like to find out more, please get in touch with the News through Sue Walden on 01223 434318 or Penny Potter on 01223 434375.

Dean's a pearl with treble

Haverhill Rov 4 Cottenham Utd 1

Cambridge & Dist Colts League, Under-15D
DEAN Jennings was man of the match and scored a hat-trick with a headed opener, a tap-in from a fine cross from Aldrin George and a superb shot into the far corner following a through pass from Tom Marsh.

Joe Mustoe scored Haverhill's other goal halfway through the first half after latching on to a through ball.

Cottenham piled on the pressure in the second half but a resilient Rovers defence kept them to one goal.

■ Haverhill Rovers girls under-16s beat Netherton Diamonds from Peterborough 4-1 in their first match of the season, thanks to a hat-trick from Charlotte Richter and a goal from Jess Stearn.

Needingworth 1 Hondon Hawks 2

Cambridge & Dist Colts League, Under-13C
HUNDON were behind after 25 minutes, but took control in the second half, with new boys Sam Finch and Matt Robinson shining and Sammy Primett winning everything at the back.

The Hawks missed chance after chance until skipper Milo Holmes curled in a corner, and Tyler Bell hit the winner 10 minutes from time.

Cottenham Utd 2 West Wrattling 3

Under-16 friendly
HARRY Willett curled the ball into the far corner to open the scoring on 20 minutes, but the hosts were level before half time.

Man-of-the-match Sam Clayton helped restore the advantage when he was tackled as he strode forward, and the ball broke for Harrison Ford to swivel and strike into the bottom corner.

Dan Espin scored his first for the club with a cracker into the roof of the net from 25 yards, before Cottenham scored in the dying seconds to make the final score 3-2.

West Wrattling 3 Milton 4

Cambridge & Dist Colts League, Under-15A
WRATTING held their own and dominated a good percentage of the match, only to lose by the odd goal in seven.

First to open his account was Ben Weedon with a looping shot from 25 yards, but Milton equalised almost immediately. Wrattling took the lead again before half time with a stunning strike from Harry Ripp.

In the second half, Liam Mitchell broke from an Aaron Millar throw out and fed Earle Lambert, who slotted Weedon through to finish with precision.

But Milton came back to equalise and, as Wrattling commendably searched for a winner, the visitors scored the winner on the break.

Man-of-the-match for Wrattling was Sam Ager.

Haverhill Rovers 3 Buckhurst Hill 9

Eastern Junior Alliance, Under-13
ROVERS conceded an own goal inside the first few minutes, which seemed to knock the stuffing out of the hosts as they slumped 8-0 behind by half time.

The second half was much more positive, with Kieron Harrison, Brandon Westley and Branham Ince scoring, with one reply by Buckhurst, who had a player sent off for violent conduct near the end.

East Bergholt 1 Haverhill Rovers 3

Eastern Junior Alliance, Under-14
BERGHOLT took the lead against the run of play, and held their lead at the break despite Will Gardner and Charlie Lewis going close for Rovers.

The second half saw Rovers re-shuffle, and it paid off as Billy Bush and Jordie Smith combined to set up Michael Johnson to equalise.

Rovers took the lead when Chidera Nkeem-Paul latched on to a Lewis through ball and coolly beat the keeper, and they killed off the match when skipper Rhys Shulver fired in an unstoppable shot from 25 yards.

West Wrattling 6 Cambridge Celts 2

Cambridge 9v9 Youth League, Under-12A
CELTS took the lead from a free kick, but their advantage did not last long with Bayford making the most of a mistake by the keeper, pouncing on a dropped ball to slot home.

Celts struck back and a fast break down the left wing ended in them re-taking the lead before half time.

Wrattling attacked the Celts goal from the outset in the second half, and Westley quickly grabbed the equaliser.

Coleman pounced in the area to give Wrattling a deserved lead, and Holden grabbed the next two for Wrattling, the first from the penalty spot.

A quick break from deep defence allowed Bayford the chance to grab Wrattling's sixth. Cordwell was man of the match for Wrattling.

Comeback trail: Haverhill second XV at Royston.

CP

Rugby club on the up again

Royston II 48 Haverhill II 0

Friendly
INSTEAD of the long journey to Mersea Island to fulfil their first league fixture for some time, 14 Haverhill players travelled to Royston for a friendly after Mersea called off at the last minute.

With a mixture of rookies and veterans playing for the first time together it was always going to be an uphill battle, which was made even harder by fighting against a stiff wind in the first half.

The visitors were pinned in their own half, but with a front eight which never gave up, the half finished a respectable 28-0.

Haverhill attacked much better in the second half, and rookies Harry Marsh and Elliott Patrick showed they are able to hold their own at this level.

The final quarter was with uncontested scrums after veteran Callum Stewart came off worse after his apprentice in the second row, Marsh, was pushed on top of him in a ruck.

Haverhill pushed for a deserved consolation try but as fatigue set in due to no replacements, every lost ball was punished by a Royston sprint to score.

The seconds are due to entertain Mistley on Saturday.

Leading lights: The prizewinners at Haverhill Golf Club Ladies Open.

CP

HAVERHILL'S Andy Fish and Paul Houchen are through to the final of the International Pairs event after finishing third with 41pts at the regional final at Belton Woods in Lincolnshire.

In very wet and windy conditions, it was Fish's 80ft birdie putt on the 18th that secured the pair a place in the national final at Wychwood Park in Cheshire later this month.

The top three pairs from the UK final will go on to represent the UK at the 36-hole world final at The Carrick on Loch Lomond on October 16-18.

■ Houchen's success continued when he won the final of the Spencer Woods Cup, one of the club's summer matchplay events.

The five-handicapper qualified to play in the final against Haverhill junior Liam Merritt, who plays off seven.

In a close match, Houchen managed to win 1up on the 18th hole, and said: "Liam played extremely well and I was surprised at the standard of his golf - he has improved tremendously and he was a very tough player to beat."

Houchen is also through to the final of the Signposts Paints Cup against club champion Andy Bareham on September 28.

■ Karen Korzack and Christine Lynch-Bates were victorious in Fish's monster putt seals International Pairs chance the Ladies Open at Haverhill Golf Club. The Fynn Valley pair scored 42pts to finish top of the pair betterball event, played off full handicap.

Second with 41pts were Sally Cade and Claire Aldous from Newton Green, with Jackie Watson and Carmel Plant of Bury St Edmunds third on 40pts.

A total of 80 competitors representing 21 clubs took part.

■ Dennis Harkness was the best Haverhill performer at the Suffolk Seniors Championship.

In terrible conditions, Harkness had a very creditable score of 79-6-73 to finish sixth out of a field of 52.

Gerry Scott, Eamonn Bareham, Richard Sharp and club president Chris Briggs also competed for Haverhill.

Overall winner was J Marks of Woodbridge with 76-4-72.

■ Haverhill's team of Sally Price, Jackie Condon, Lyn Fish and Karen Wilby won the Ladies' Open at Stisted

(Braintree) Golf Club. They claimed victory by just one point in the stableford team event, with a best three from four score of 104pts.

■ Lady captain Marian Mercer won the Ladies Medal and LGU Pendant, played over two days, with a four-under par score of 93-25-68.

Second on countback was Lyn Fish with 91-21-70 and third was Pat Kennedy with 87-17-70. All three have had their handicaps reduced by one shot.

>> Tennis: Haverhill TC finals day

Adam and Abi rule the courts in finals

ADAM Fowle and Abi Cartwright-Thomas were double winners at the Haverhill Tennis Club annual finals day.

Teenager Cartwright-Thomas made it three ladies' singles titles in a row with a 7-6, 6-1 victory over Olivia Becher, but Becher got her revenge in the doubles, teaming up with Marcia Armstrong to beat Cartwright-Thomas and Lucy Hardwick 6-4, 6-2.

Cartwright-Thomas had a winning end to the day, however, when she and Fowle won the mixed doubles with a 6-2, 7-6 victory over Ian Terry and Armstrong.

Fowle and Nigel Fitch, the defending champions and No 1 seeds, had earlier overcome Josh Dashwood and Jake Warner 6-4, 6-3 to win the men's doubles.

In the men's singles final, 16-year-old Ross Tobin was hoping to repeat his first senior finals victory from last year, but came up against experienced James Booth, who dominated the match to win 6-1, 6-0.

Haverhill safe as ace Singh calls the tune

HAVERHILL finally got back to winning ways and secured their Division One status for next season with a comprehensive victory over bottom side Abborton at Manor Road.

The visitors won the toss and decided to bat, and although they did not lose early wickets they could gain no momentum against Raj Singh, whose first eight overs consisted of seven maidens.

The breakthrough finally came in the 20th over when captain Simon Youngs had Zaman (26) stumped by son Luke.

Abborton's best partnership followed, with skipper Moxon providing most of the runs. Joe Woodley (8-2-18-1) had Gallant (19) caught by Scott Webb and skipper Youngs then trapped Lingard (0) in front first ball.

When Liam Savage ran out Sawdon (0) the visitors' effort started to fade. Webb had Moxon (34) caught by Savage and the returning Singh cleaned up the tail with some fine bowling to finish with incredible figures of 5 for 7 in 10.4 overs as the visitors were dismissed for just 118.

Haverhill's reply started in positive fashion as Bill Moran and Sam Powell took advantage of some wayward bowling.

Powell (23) was out well caught by Moxon off the bowling of Sawdon, but Moran recorded his first half-century of the season with 56 not out, and Adam Dellar was unbeaten on 25 as the town side cruised to a nine-wicket win.

Captain Youngs said: "We did what we needed to do and have secured being in Division One next season."

"It's a fabulous achievement by everyone at the club and I'm delighted it hasn't gone down to the last game."

Haverhill finish their season at Exning on Saturday, and a win could take them into mid-table.

>> Football: Ridgeons League

Hunt goal is big lift for Rovers

Wisbech Tn 1 Haverhill Rov 2
Premier Division

MARCUS Hunt scored a second-half winner as Haverhill came away with a hard-fought 2-1 win on Tuesday night which puts them in good heart for Saturday's FA Cup first qualifying round clash at King's Lynn.

Stuart Kingham gave Peter Betts' men an early lead with a header at the far post in the 20th minute.

Wisbech drew level a minute before half time, but the visitors were not to be denied in the second half.

The Wisbech defence failed to clear a corner and Hunt was on hand to scramble the ball home.

Coach Mick Reardon said: "It was a good game and over the 90 minutes we definitely deserved to win."

"We weathered a bit of a storm but in the last 15 to 20 minutes we really finished the game strongly.

"It was an excellent performance. We're really looking forward to Saturday's game, this was just what we wanted."

Scott Lodge and Jack Higgs were on target as Haverhill were held to a 2-2 draw at home to Gorleston last Saturday.

Lodge gave Rovers the lead with a shot on the turn inside the area, but Gorleston equalised just before the break.

Higgs restored the hosts' advantage only for Gorleston to level again midway through the second half.

Reardon, who took charge with manager Peter Betts at a wedding, said: "The wind played a major part, especially in the second half when it really picked up."

"But there was still some good football played and it was a fairly even game that could have gone either way."
